Syllabus B. A. (hons) Applied Psychology

Syllabus B. A. (hons) Applied Psychology

B. A. (HONS) APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

This course aims at developing an understanding of the growing discipline of applied psychology and promoting skill based education. The course intends to enable students in developing skills and competencies needed for meeting the challenges and needs of the real world in an effective way. Hence this syllabus is created keeping in mind the changing nature of the society, educational institutions and the workplace and therefore to inculcate the required competencies in the students to understand and respond to the same efficiently and effectively.

One important goal is to develop competence in interpersonal and research skills required for the ethical and responsible conduct in basic and applied settings. The focus is also on developing a strong theoretical foundation as well as statistical and methodological skills that can be utilized in a number of applied settings.

Pedagogy for teaching the B.A. (Hons) Course in Applied Psychology

The teaching-learning of the programme would be organized through lectures, tutorials, experiential exercises, projects, presentations, workshops, seminars and hands on training. Students would be encouraged to develop an understanding of real life issues and participate in the programs and practices in the social context. Practicum is incorporated as an important component in most of the papers with hands on training in the use of various research methods such as laboratory experiments, field experiments, observation, testing, survey, interview and case study. Use of ICT and mass media and web based sources is highly recommended to make the teaching-learning process interactive, interesting and fruitful.

Evaluation

The mode of evaluation would be through a combination of external and internal assessment in the ratio of 75: 25 respectively. Along with routine examinations, classroom participations, class assignments, project work, and presentations would also be a part of the overall assessment of the students.
